IRISH HOME RULE.

The Other Side of the Question Argued by a Correspondent.

Kingston, N. Y., July 29, 1914.

Editor The Freeman,

Dear Sir:—In The Freeman of the 22nd of July there is an article of such a character to justify some comment; otherwise silence might be construed to assent. The writer indulged in some statements which the cause of truth, as I understand it, requires that they should not be permitted to pass unnoticed. I must, therefore, ask your indulgence in allowing me such comment in reply as I think the matter deserves.

The article alluded to is the one under the head—'Situation in Ireland, written by "An American Visitor to Ireland."

Not content to error time and again in his article, the writer, who ever he may be, sadly errors in his first broadside. He tells the English people that they "don't seem inclined to look facts in the face about" their "Irish troubles." I wonder if this "American Visitor" as he styles himself, ever read the history of Great Britain and Ireland. Probably not, for his statement leads me to think so. The people of England are looking the real fact in the face when they are giving the people of Ireland home rule. Years ago they realized the utter necessity of this; they appreciate what it will inevitably mean to Ireland to have home rule. They see that a majority of the people want it. True there is a minority, but it is a mere handful in comparison with those who want and have it they appealed to religious prejudices. They had to save themselves no matter the cost. Themselves first, England afterward. Carson has done his work only too well, but the cost shall be dear. The common people of England are on their guard; the interests at stake are too great to sacrifice. They realize democracy is pitted against autocracy, and one fine morning Carson and his "army" will awaken and find themselves in a position hard to account for.

"The Roman Catholic Irish sons don't like your ways, which are of course the Ulster ways," he tells the English people. Surely they must be exalted to receive such a compliment. The idea of saying English ways and Ulster ways are the same, are identical. There is about as much difference between the liberal ways of the Englishman and the ways of the Ulster people as between a half-bred Indian in some God forsaken place in Mexico and a Frenchman in Paris. "They are a poetical rather than a practical people," he informs us. Again I strongly dissent from his opinion. The Irish are as practical as any other people and I say this without fear of contradiction. In every walk of life their very work bears witness that the statement is not true. Does the esteemed "visitor" suppose for a moment that "a poetical" people "rather than a practical people" have struggled so long and so gallantly for a right to rule themselves—a right which was stolen from them, yes, stolen in 1801? Does he think for a minute that it was an unpractical people lead by the eloquent O'Connell who wrung from an English Parliament the Emancipation Act in 1829? Once again he errs.

He then tells us that "Irish people prefer their slums, their dirty hotels, eleven shillings in the pound taxes rates." Home Rule for Ireland assures me that there will be no more slums, nor bad roads, no dirty hotels, nor eleven shillings in the pound taxes rates. Home Rule means to my mind—and undoubtedly means to every intelligent, thinking person—no more of these things which have made Ireland what is. The very people who "prefer" these things (slums, roads, etc.) want Home Rule. When they get it they will clean things up. The writer himself admits that those who "prefer" and those wanting Home Rule are the same. Is he lying or don't he know what he is talking about? People with common sense can judge for themselves.

"And they like to be told how to vote by their priests." Where did my esteemed authority get such information? Did the priests come around and ask for his vote during his "two weeks" stay or did some Orange Black-leg tell him this damnable lie so that he might spread it over the world? How does the Protestant Home Ruler vote? Does the priest tell him "how to vote" too? Or does his minister tell him? Surely he will acquaint us with his reasoning along this line. He insults every Home Ruler who is not a Catholic—and there are hundreds of them—when he makes that statement and coupled with that fact the statement is a base lie. And with that indignation born of logic and history I repel the odious charge which has arisen within the breast of a prejudiced man.

"That is not your (the Englishman's) idea of civilization or ours," he tells us. No, and neither is it the civilization of the Catholic Irish. If he found some to believe he did not, he could calmly lay the blame at the door of "Mother England." She has ruled the Irish people with a relentless hand of iron for centuries and every cause that might tend to make a better Ireland was trampled under foot by English armies or pigeon-holed in London offices. As a matter of fact the progress of civilization in this country, the advance of gentle and refined manners, the spread of liberal and tolerant ideas, in fact, the growth of all these accomplishments which we have to consider as adornments of the true American, proceed in equal step with Irish emigration. And, yet, he tells us that the Irishman's idea of civilization is not the same as ours, or the Englishman's. Nothing could be more absurd; nothing so untrue.

I am, very respectfully yours,
HENRY GRATTAN.

John leaned on his rake and scratched his head reflectively.

CHICAGO MARKET
GROWS MORE CALM

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 29.—Two meetings of the directors of the Board of Trade were held today at which was discussed the advisability of closing the wheat pit to trading in futures. Instead of taking this drastic action, which was urged by several of the directors, the board officials appointed themselves a committee and moved among the traders on the floor, giving out the instructions that there must be no repetition of yesterday's and this morning's wild trading. They told traders that if they were short they must not try to get out in a minute, but must stand their losses. This cautioning had the desired effect and the market switched to almost a dull and inactive affair at closing time.

Excitement on the floor continued through the first hour, although the scene was hardly as wild as that of yesterday. The volume of business was not as great as might be surmised by the rapid change in quotations. Shortly before 11 o'clock wheat developed a much easier tone. It was later announced that everybody had "cleared" no financial distress being reported.

Thousands of persons lined both sides of La Salle street from Monroe street to the Board of Trade watching eight pairs of runners working in relays conveying the clearing house receipts to brokerage houses.

THEY SAY

An uptown business man tells of an amusing experience which occurred on his way to business. Coming up one of the main streets he met a well known milkman who got out of his wagon to deliver a bottle of milk at a nearby house. On his getting out of the wagon he said to the horse, "Go right on," which command the horse obeyed by going on up the street. The business man made a remark as to the intelligence of the horse, and the milkman replied: "Why that horse knows more than the common council." The business man said the horse surely had some horse sense. Whereupon the milk man retorted: "Yes, and that is more than some of those aldermen have."

A revival of the old form of the chain letter epidemic seems to have broken out and sane people cannot help wondering at the proceedings that are perpetrated in the name of either religion or Christianity. The following has been received in this city: "An Ancient Prayer. 'Oh! Lord Jesus, I implore Thee to deliver me, and is to be sent all over the world. Copy it and send it to 9 friends. Sign no name, and see what it will bring to you. It was said in Jesus' time all those who wrote this prayer would be delivered from all calamities: all those who failed to send it would suffer some misfortune. Commence the day you receive this and copy it for 9 days and send someone and in 9 days you will receive some great joy.' In addition to the utter foolishness of the thing is the absurdity of thinking that Christ would vindictively punish any one who failed to do such a silly thing by visiting some dire calamity upon them. Yet undoubtedly there will be many persons who will through foolish fear, no other reason, write the nine letters and instead of doing any good, annoy nine other persons who in turn will do the same thing, unless nine sensible people may all be reached at once, who like the recipient of this letter will consign the same to the trash basket."

SHOKAN.

Shokan, July 29.—George Giles and R. W. Longyear have their houses full of boarders.

John Davis, who has charge of our section of the road, is engaged in resurfacing the various places which are badly worn.

Cyrus Cudney, who is suffering from pneumonia, is a little better at this writing.

William Shultis has finished digging and laying up a well on his property occupied by William Buley.

Preparations are being made to commence work on the steel bridge at Browns. There promises to be lots doing around here for the next two years. Money is plentiful, there is work for all and our storekeepers are rushed with trade. Good times, certainly.

Christine Bechtoldt is stopping at Mrs. Dumont's this summer.

Mr. Congers, the young candidate who preached in the Reformed Church, was well liked by those who heard him.

Seymour Winne is painting the residence and meat market at Basil Cudney.

Oscar Ganter, who moved here recently has already demonstrated that he is a hustler and an up-to-date farmer. We are glad to have men of Mr. Ganter's stamp in our community.

Charles Greene has a large number of berry pickers at work. Both Mr. Greene and Benjamin Secor have heavy crops of berries this season.

The haying season bids fair to extend to the middle of August around here. Although the frequent rains have seriously retarded the gathering of the hay crops they have proved to be very beneficial to the corn, potatoes and other growing crops.

Earl Elmendorf is laying a walk in front of his new residence.

John Every has finished grading Mrs. Scott's lawn, and George Barclay recently delivered some fine flag stone for the walk. Mrs. Scott has one of our most attractive residences.

Mrs. Carman and daughters are visiting at Elmer Bedell's.

Miss Ida Shaw is spending a few weeks in this place.

We understand that a very up-to-date school building is to be erected in the lower village. How much more sensible it would have been to build one good union school near the Baptist Church. But there was too much haste in building on the heights, and with too little planning and looking ahead, so now the Ashokan people must needs have a school of their own, which is quite proper. The result will be two schools as in the old days, instead of one good institution with modern equipments and better teachers.

An Eddyville Corporation.

The Sanders-Wilson-Barnaby Company, Incorporated, with principal office at Eddyville, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state at Albany and in the Ulster county clerk's office. The company is organized to manufacture cushion spring inserts for automobiles and all other vehicles, and has a capital of $25,000, consisting of 250 shares of the par value of $100 each. Of this amount $20,000 is preferred stock and $5,000 is common stock. The directors are Thomas Sanders, Jr., of New Rochelle, N. Y.; William Wilson, Jr., New York city; Kenneth T. Barnaby, Newark, N. J.; William M. Newcome, New York city; E. M. Goulden, Brooklyn.

Linson Files Certificate.

Herman Linson of No. 107 North Front street has filed a certificate in the Ulster county clerk's office that he intends to transact business under the name of The New Electric Shoe Repairing Shop.

SERVIANS HURRYING TO ENLIST AND TYPE OF SERBIAN FIGHTING MEN.

At the left is shown a picture of Serbian workmen who dropped their tools when the first rumors of a possible war with Austria were spread, and hurried to the military offices to enlist as volunteers. The fact that workmen repairing the streets of Bel grade did not even stop to put their tools away before hurrying off to enlist illustrates the intense patriotism and warlike spirit of the people. At the left is shown a Serbian infantryman. He is of the type that will bear the brunt of the fighting in the present conflict.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 29.—Two meetings of the directors of the Board of Trade were held today at which was discussed the advisability of closing the wheat pit to trading in futures. Instead of taking this drastic action, which was urged by several of the directors, the board officials appointed themselves a committee and moved among the traders on the floor, giving out the instructions that there must be no repetition of yesterday's and this morning's wild trading. They told traders that if they were short they must not try to get out in a minute, but must stand their losses. This cautioning had the desired effect and the market switched to almost a dull and inactive affair at closing time.

Excitement on the floor continued through the first hour, although the scene was hardly as wild as that of yesterday. The volume of business was not as great as might be surmised by the rapid change in quotations.

Shortly before 11 o'clock wheat developed a much easier tone. It was later announced that everybody had "cleared" no financial distress being reported.

Prosperous Powder Company.

The Nitro Powder Company's semi-annual report as made to the directors of the company was gratifying. It showed gross output, January to July 1 with 3 per cent of the output for the same period last year, and net earnings for the first six months of 1914 equal to 13.8 per cent on outstanding capital stock over all charges, including interest on outstanding bonds. The company's first six months are always less than the last half of the year. Directors expect net earnings for the year equal to 30 per cent. With business revival it will no doubt be considerable above this.

RABIES QUARANTINE IN MARLBOROUGH

A dog quarantine has been declared in the town of Marlborough because alleged symptoms of rabies have been found to exist, and already it has been found necessary to put several dogs to death. The first of these belonged to W. Y. Velle, and it was killed by Dr. George W. Little early in the month and the head was sent to the New York State Veterinary College for examination. The report received a few days later stated that the dog had been suffering from rabies. It was thought that this and several other dogs in the village of Marlborough had been bitten by a stray black dog. Dr. A. L. Danforth of Goshen, a state inspector, was in the village last Wednesday to put the quarantine order into effect.

Black Swamp Drainage.

About twenty-five property owners residing along the swamps running through Plutarch and Clintondale met in New Paltz on Wednesday to listen to a drainage proposition put up by George E. Van Kenan, chairman of the state conservation commission. Mr. Van Kenan said that the people interested must consider whether it was feasible to drain Black creek swamp from a commercial standpoint. He did not want to urge them to do it; it was up to the property owners themselves, but if they wanted to do it the conservation commission would carry it through for them. The law provides that the cost of the work could be paid for by issuing bonds not to exceed fifty years, at 5 per cent, these free from taxation.

Fire Board Meets.

A regular meeting of the board of fire commissioners was held at the central fire station on Tuesday evening and considerable routine business transacted. John T. Heppner was appointed a substitute fireman, and the application of John J. Grimes for an exempt fireman's certificate was granted. The reports of Chief Chipp and Superintendent Harry B. Legg of the fire alarm system were received and filed. The board also audited a number of bills.

Williams Discharged.

Robert J. Williams, one of the members of the beer party on Third avenue on Monday evening, who was placed under arrest by John Prusack, another member of the party, on a charge of disorderly conduct, was discharged this morning when Prusack failed to appear to press the charge. Mrs. Williams, his wife, who was also arrested, was discharged on Tuesday for lack of evidence on which to base a charge.

(By Frank G. Menke.)

"President Wilson never plays the nineteenth hole, and, therefore, certainly cannot get the real enjoyment out of the golfing game," remarks a writer for the "Stories of the Links" page in the July issue of the Golfers Magazine.

"What would golf be to the average player if he couldn't hold a sort of post-mortem—if he couldn't review the game he just has finished and to inform his audience of the several wonderful shots he made during that game. For the player, one of the greatest pleasures is to tell of the marvelous drive he made from the seventh tee, of the 20 foot putt at the 11th hole, of the wonderful lofting drive from the rough on the approach to the 18th hole—the shot that put him on the green and gave him the game that, for a time, seemed hopelessly lost.

"President Wilson never seems to feel this way. As soon as the last hole is played, he jumps into a waiting automobile and is whisked away. He never lingers to talk over what he did, or what might have been if he hadn't sliced his drive, or rummed the cup. Such is the penalty that one must pay for greatness.

William Harig, of the Hyde Park Golf Club, is the only Cincinnati player who ever was beaten by a hungry horse, declares another writer for that page. Harig was playing a foursome, with George Stannard as partner. The match was even up, until Harig drove out of bounds into a pasture. Search for the ball was futile. Then a horse was seen to drop something from his mouth over the fence and onto the course.

It was found the horse had chewed the covering off the ball and dropped the remainder over the fence. After discussion it was decided the ball had been returned to the course by an outside agency, but that Harig should lose a stroke. The stroke cost him the match.

While on the subject of freak shots in golf, it might not be amiss to include a yarn spun by a writer whose veracity is questioned, a yarn whose truthfulness serves as the model for the rising generation in his home town. "Not that we wish for a single moment to intimate that this incident didn't happen, but—well, here it is. Decide for yourself.

"Driving off from the 5th tee, I sliced. The ball shot in the direction of the rough, but it didn't land on the ground. Why? Well, because a porcupine jumped up from his hiding in the rough just at the crucial moment and the ball landed on his back and lodged between his bristles.

"What next? Whv, so help me, gee whiz, that animal ran right toward the green and when he got there he shook himself. Out dropped the ball and by Jimminy, it rolled right into the cup, giving me the hole in one, with bogey at five."

A beginner wanted to play in a bogey competition says a Ridge County Club member. He had no handicap, and was told that the only way open to him was to play from scratch.

When he came in he was asked how he had done. "Oh, not so well for the first twelve holes, but after that I played wonderfully well, doing most of the holes in bogey or less. Whv, at the seventeenth hole, I made it in six less than bogey, and at the 18th, I did it in eight less than bogey."

"Would you mind explaining just how you did it?" asked one of his auditors—the first to recover his breath.

"Oh, I suppose it was just my natural improvement as the game went on," said the player. "I couldn't do the first hole in one, nor the second in two, nor the third in three. Fact is, I couldn't do any of the first twelve holes in bogey, but got started at the 13th. I made that hole in bogey—13 shots. I made the 14th in 14, the 15th in 13 and from then on I had an easy time beating bogey for I did the sixteenth hole in 13, the 17th in 11, and the 18th in ten."

Grant D. Green, of the Orangetown Country Club of Syracuse, New York, is the only man that ever negotiated an A-75 yard hole on that course in two strokes, and he'll probably hold that record, made some years ago, for many years to come.

The hole in question is bunkered by three small hills with valleys between. The normal drives usually land in one or another of those valleys. But Green's didn't. His drive struck the second hill, about 225 yards from the tee, plunked onto a little rock and then, instead of rolling into the valley, zipped off, landed on the crust of the third hill and then rolled down onto the green near enough to the hole to get Green down on the next shot.

BIG INDIAN.

Big Indian, July 29.—The village of Big Indian was thrown in the state of excitement on Saturday evening at about 11 o'clock after the week exhibition of the George Barnard show, when the most popular young lady received as a prize a handsome diamond ring. The most prominent young men of this place wishing the pleasure of the company of the most popular young lady, begged to see the young lady to her home. The young lady arrived home very safe. The most popular child also received a very pretty ring, the luck child being Miss Grace Surplus and the lucky popular young lady being Miss Jennie Bush.

Prosperous Powder Company.

The Nitro Powder Company's semi-annual report as made to the directors of the company was gratifying. It showed gross output, January to July 1 with 3 per cent of the output for the same period last year, and net earnings for the first six months of 1914 equal to 13.8 per cent on outstanding capital stock over all charges, including interest on outstanding bonds. The company's first six months are always less than the last half of the year. Directors expect net earnings for the year equal to 30 per cent. With business revival it will no doubt be considerable above this.

RABIES QUARANTINE IN MARLBOROUGH

A dog quarantine has been declared in the town of Marlborough because alleged symptoms of rabies have been found to exist, and already it has been found necessary to put several dogs to death. The first of these belonged to W. Y. Velle, and it was killed by Dr. George W. Little early in the month and the head was sent to the New York State Veterinary College for examination. The report received a few days later stated that the dog had been suffering from rabies. It was thought that this and several other dogs in the village of Marlborough had been bitten by a stray black dog. Dr. A. L. Danforth of Goshen, a state inspector, was in the village last Wednesday to put the quarantine order into effect.

Black Swamp Drainage.

About twenty-five property owners residing along the swamps running through Plutarch and Clintondale met in New Paltz on Wednesday to listen to a drainage proposition put up by George E. Van Kenan, chairman of the state conservation commission. Mr. Van Kenan said that the people interested must consider whether it was feasible to drain Black creek swamp from a commercial standpoint. He did not want to urge them to do it; it was up to the property owners themselves, but if they wanted to do it the conservation commission would carry it through for them. The law provides that the cost of the work could be paid for by issuing bonds not to exceed fifty years, at 5 per cent, these free from taxation.

Fire Board Meets.

A regular meeting of the board of fire commissioners was held at the central fire station on Tuesday evening and considerable routine business transacted. John T. Heppner was appointed a substitute fireman, and the application of John J. Grimes for an exempt fireman's certificate was granted. The reports of Chief Chipp and Superintendent Harry B. Legg of the fire alarm system were received and filed. The board also audited a number of bills.

Williams Discharged.

Robert J. Williams, one of the members of the beer party on Third avenue on Monday evening, who was placed under arrest by John Prusack, another member of the party, on a charge of disorderly conduct, was discharged this morning when Prusack failed to appear to press the charge. Mrs. Williams, his wife, who was also arrested, was discharged on Tuesday for lack of evidence on which to base a charge.

CLINTONDALE.

Clintondale, July 29.—The Ladies' Aid Society will hold their fair on the church grounds on Friday afternoon and evening, August 14. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrison have moved in the house of Charles Forback, near the station. Hallock Sutton has returned from Vassar Hospital, at Poughkeepsie, where he has been for treatment. Miss Nina Gerald is ill. C. E. Terwilliger is having his building repainted. Homer York is doing the work. George Ellis has improved the appearance of his residence by adding a shingle enclosure around his porch. District Superintendent F. E. Deming preached in the Methodist Church Sunday evening last. Frank Kanane spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Terwilliger. Leo Robinson and wife of Woodcliff, N. J., spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Susan R. Lawrence. Siah Roosa has purchased a new horse. Miss Irene Churchill of Cherry Hill, N. J., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Moses P. Teas.

Sunday School Outing.

The annual picnic and outing of the members of the Rondout Presbyterian Sunday school and its friends was held today. The merry-makers boarded cars for Kingston Point this morning and at noon enjoyed lunch at the Point. At one o'clock the picnicers boarded the steamer Gardiner for a sail to Poughkeepsie where they enjoyed a trolley ride around the city, returning home about six o'clock this evening.

Crash at City Hall.

Considerable excitement prevailed in the corridors of the city hall this morning when a terrific crash was heard. Investigation showed that one of the swinging doors which had been fastened back had been blown loose by a gust of wind and the large glass in the door shattered.

This is the season of the year when the heart is astir with dreams of living in nature's garden—the great outdoors. To enjoy the exhilarating air there must be a feeling of refreshment and coolness that cannot be had if the furniture about you is hot and stuffy looking. Our line of Porch and Summer Furniture embraces a comprehensive array of Chairs, Rockers, Lounges, Tables, Stands, etc., but of Veranda Rockers we have too many. Rather than carry them over for another season and to make room for Fall and Winter goods, we have reduced prices as follows:

MANDAMUS IN ELECTRIC SHOE WAR

Mayor Canfield, Attorney for Israel, to Seek to Compel Recorder Grogan to Issue a Warrant.

As the result of a shoemakers' fight on North Front street, Mayor Canfield, attorney for Samuel Israel, who conducts the Electric Shoe Repairing Store, has prepared papers for an application for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel Recorder William H. Grogan to issue a warrant for the arrest of Herman Linson for violating section 440 of the penal law, in conducting business under an assumed name without filing a certificate in the county clerk's office, as required by that section.

Mayor Canfield in his papers alleges that application for a warrant for Linson's arrest was made to Recorder Grogan, who refused to issue the warrant, but said he would issue Linson to appear at the recorder's court. The following day, according to the papers, Linson did not appear at the city hall, but later in the day when Mayor Canfield visited Recorder Grogan's office on Wall street, Linson was at that office.

Canfield says he again applied to the recorder for a warrant for Linson's arrest, which Recorder Grogan refused to issue, and that Mr. Grogan said he was the recorder and knew what he was doing. Mayor Canfield alleges that there were no defects in his papers, and that he so stated to Mr. Grogan, and that he asked Mr. Grogan whether there were any allegations in the papers on which the warrant was to be based which would prevent him from issuing a warrant.

Israel and Linson have been rivals for business on North Front street. Israel some time ago installed electrical machinery for repairing shoes and so did Linson. Israel called his place the Electric Shoe Repairing Shop, and filed a certificate with the county clerk as required by section 440 of the Penal Law, that he was conducting business under an assumed name. Linson called his shop the New Electric Shoe Repairing Shop, and did not file a certificate. As appears elsewhere in the Freeman, he has filed such a certificate now.

Recorder Grogan's refusal to issue a warrant, it is understood, was based on the belief that for minor offenses no warrant should be issued, but that the offender should be notified to appear before him and be admonished, and that if damage was sustained by Israel from Linson's use of a similar name, the action should be a civil action and that the recorder's court should not be used for settling matters that should more properly be settled in a civil suit to be tried in a court having such jurisdiction.

Mayor Canfield will apply for his writ of mandamus within a few days and the matter will be returnable at the special term to be held here in September.

VIADUCT COMMISSION.

Lane Claim Settled.

The viaduct commission, composed of Messrs. Hasbrouck, Thompson and Duffy, met at the court house this morning, to finish the Hutton claim and to take testimony on the Lane property. Mr. Codwell was last witness for the claimant.

proved a map of the property that he had made. Mr. Brininger, who represented the city, called Addison E. Dederick, who was qualified as a real estate expert and gave a value of $2,500 of the property before the construction was started and $1,800 after the work was completed. He swore that the fair rental value of the property was $50 a year or about $4 a month. Mr. Reis was not there, but it was understood that the testimony that he would give would be the same as Mr. Dederick's. Charles Wood, the foreman of the viaduct construction was called and said that the Hutton property was first used for a roadway by the contractors on October 1, 1913, and that the construction work was begun on April 21, 1913. This testimony was given to prove the length of time that the property had been used, for which Mr. Hutton is making a claim. This testimony closed the case and the Lane case was taken up.

The Lane claim was settled some time ago when former Corporation Council Metzger and Mr. Lane agreed on a damage of $3,100. This amount was ratified later by the common council. When the case was brought up before the commission, both Mr. Brininger and the attorneys for the two railroads objected to this settlement as it was very excessive.

This morning it was agreed between the parties that Mr. Lane was to cancel the old agreement, and should receive $2,750, thus reducing the amount $350. Mr. Lane was called and proved his title which closed the case. An adjournment was taken until September 2.

Too Many Green Apples.

Morris Weiner, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Pinkos Weiner, of Meadow street, is in a serious condition at the Kingston City Hospital, after undergoing an operation on Tuesday evening. The young lad had eaten a number of green apples during the morning and towards evening he complained of severe pains. His mother did all that she could to relieve the pain which steadily grew worse and Dr. Chandler was summoned and took the boy to the hospital in his automobile.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 29.—The news that came this morning to arbitrage brokers of a practical cessation of dealings in the London stock exchange, coupled with the closing of the Bourses at Amsterdam and St. Petersburg, intensified the feverishness that has prevailed in the stock market here since the beginning of the week. There was a reluctance to take the buying side except at substantial concessions and as a result severe losses were sustained all through the list in the first few minutes.

The declines in the leading issues at that time ranged from one to over four points, but afterwards a better tone developed and before the end of the first half hour a number of issues were in good demand and made rallies of from one to two points. The trading was attended with much excitement and wide-openings were recorded in many stocks. The first sales of Reading were reported at five thousand shares from 152 1/2 to 150 1/2, the stock selling at more than two points apart in different sections of the crowd at the same time. At the low level at the opening Reading showed a loss of 3 1/2 points with a quick recovery.

Great Northern Pfd. dropped five points, followed by a rally to 115 1/2, and a loss of 3 1/2 was sustained in Anaconda, which opened at 25 1/2. The opening transaction in United States Steel Common consisted of 2,000 shares at 54 1/4 and five thousand at 54, against 55 1/4 at the close yesterday, but there was a quick rally in this market leader of a point to 55, making it show only a fractional loss as the first half hour ended. Lehigh Valley yielded 3 points to 128 1/2, with a rally later to 129 1/2. A great deal of interest was displayed in Canadian Pacific because of the suspension of business generally abroad where that stock is dealt in. It opened at 162, a gain of 1/4, but later fell to 160. The curb market was steady.

Noon—A great change in stock market conditions was noted in the late forenoon, many of the leading issues being in vigorous demand. Special notice was taken of Canadian Pacific, which rose five points to 165 1/2. Amalgamated Copper, Steel were up 2 points; Baltimore & Ohio, Chino Copper, Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania, Reading, Union Pacific, United States Rubber and Utah Copper one point; Erie, 1/2; Chesapeake & Ohio, 1/4, and Western Union, 1/8. Call money loaning at 2 1/2.

2:30 p. m.—As the afternoon progressed there was a disappearance of the nervous tone which had characterized the market since the beginning of the week and in its place there was a demonstration of the fact that all the international issues were in brisk demand and net gains were numerous.

The New York market closed strong; governments unchanged; other bonds irregular.

CAPE COD CANAL OPENED TODAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New Bedford, Mass., July 29.—The Cape Cod Canal, which cost $12,000,000, took five years to dig, and is expected to draw 25,000,000 tons of traffic a year, was opened today with a water parade and speechmaking.

It unites Buzzard's Bay and Barnstable Bay by a waterway of a minimum depth of 25 feet and minimum width of 100 feet at the bottom.

The canal's width and depth are greater than those of the first Suez Canal and the tonnage through which it will probably be for many years more than twice that of the Panama Canal.

Thousands of persons came to the canal today in motor cars and various water craft. An official fleet, led by a boat load of officers of the Cape Cod Construction Company, with a long following of tooting and crowded small vessels, left here this morning, proceeded through Buzzard's Bay and the canal to the eastern end and then returned to the western approach where there were formal exercises on shore. While speeches were being made here, Cape Cod folk at the other end were holding a pageant.

There were many state and national dignitaries present and congratulations were in order for William Barclay Parsons, engineer of the canal; Frank A. Furst, head of the contracting company and August Belmont, financial backer.

The canal is thirteen miles long between thirty foot depths in the two bays it connects and eight miles from shore to shore. It was commenced June 22, 1909, and unofficially opened July 4, last.

Since the time of Miles Standish, Massachusetts has been hoping for a canal across Cape Cod. In colonial days, engineers examined the grounds many times and George Washington ordered a report on the coast. There were five attempts to open a canal before this one.

Twenty-five thousand vessels round Cape Cod every year and 2,131 vessels have been wrecked on Pollock's Rip, where there are 1,082 hours of fog annually. Vessels of more than 1,000 tons gross pay 10 cents a ton for the use of the canal, but save a great deal in lessened insurances. It is figured that barges and schooners also will save an average of four days on a round trip through the canal between Boston and the south as compared with the hazardous old route.

Installing Sprinklers.

A new system of automatic sprinklers for fire prevention is being installed in the factory of the Washington Candy Company at Hasbrouck avenue and Mill street. The Herbert Brush Company's factory has also been similarly equipped in the past week.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Margaret S. Quigley, wife of Charles E. Quigley of No. 65 Henry street, died unexpectedly Tuesday afternoon at the home of her father, John P. Shurtler, in the town of Ulster, near the Kingston bridge. She had been out of health for several years and a few weeks ago went to the home of her father in the hope that she would be benefited by the change. Mr. Quigley is well known as the local manager of the Directoy Tea and Coffee Company. The funeral will take place from the residence of her father on Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The interment will be in Wiltwyck cemetery.

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

Tom McNamara, the Pittsburgh National scout, has picked Kelly from Bill McCabe and the latter will receive $1,500 for the deal. Kelly will be remembered as playing the out field for Kingston last season and hit and ran bases like a fiend.

The Mt. Pleasant A. C., one of the fastest semi-professional in this part of the state, issues a challenge to some strong amateur semi-professional team for a game for Saturday, August 8, 1914. As there is a special excursion from Schenectady to Kingston Point for that day only there is a chance to get one of the fastest teams in this vicinity for a reasonable guarantee. Have won seventeen out of twenty-three games played, having defeated such teams as the Empires of Schenectady, Jennings' Champions of Albany, McGraws of Albany, Hudson Colored Giants, Eagles of Cohoes, Johnstown and played a brace of games with the fast Brotherhood team of Watervliet and also Saratoga. Have also scheduled a series with the General Electric team for the championship of Schenectady. Any team desiring to arrange game, please address G. Ullman, 717 Vale street, Schenectady, N. Y. Also play Sunday ball if any club desires game.

MANDAMUS IN ELECTRIC SHOE WAR

Mayor Canfield, Attorney for Israel, to Seek to Compel Recorder Grogan to Issue a Warrant.

As the result of a shoemakers' fight on North Front street, Mayor Canfield, attorney for Samuel Israel, who conducts the Electric Shoe Repairing Store, has prepared papers for an application for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel Recorder William H. Grogan to issue a warrant for the arrest of Herman Linson for violating section 440 of the penal law, in conducting business under an assumed name without filing a certificate in the county clerk's office, as required by that section.

Mayor Canfield in his papers alleges that application for a warrant for Linson's arrest was made to Recorder Grogan, who refused to issue the warrant, but said he would notify Linson to appear at the recorder's court. The following day, according to the papers, Linson did not appear at the city hall, but later in the day when Mayor Canfield visited Recorder Grogan's office on Wall street, Linson was at that office.

Canfield says he again applied to the recorder for a warrant for Linson's arrest, which Recorder Grogan refused to issue, and that Mr. Grogan said he was doing. Mayor Canfield alleges that there were no defects in his papers, and that he so stated to Mr. Grogan, and that he so stated to Mr. Grogan whether there were any allegations in the papers on which the warrant was to be based which would prevent him from issuing a warrant.

Israel and Linson have been rivals for business on North Front street. Israel some time ago installed electrical machinery for repairing shoes and so did Linson. Israel called his place the Electric Shoe Repairing Shop, and filed a certificate with the county clerk as required by section 440 of the Penal Law, that he was conducting business under an assumed name. Linson called his shop the New Electric Shoe Repairing Shop, and did not file a certificate. As appears elsewhere in The Freeman, he has filed such a certificate now.

Recorder Grogan's refusal to issue a warrant, it is understood, was based on the belief that for minor offenses no warrant should be issued, but that the offender should be notified to appear before him and be admonished, and that if damage was sustained by Israel from Linson's use of a similar name, the action should be a civil action and that the recorder's court should not be used for settling matters that should more properly be settled in a civil suit to be tried in a court having such jurisdiction.

Mayor Canfield will apply for his writ of mandamus within a few days and the matter will be returnable at the special term to be held here in September.

VIADUCT COMMISSION.

More Testimony in Hutton Case—Lane Claim Settled.

The viaduct commission, composed of Messrs. Hasbrouck, Thompson and Duffy, met at the court house this morning, to finish the Hutton claim and to take testimony on the Lane property. Mr. C. W. Lane was last witness for the claimant.

He proved a map of the property that he had made. Mr. Brinlner, who represented the city, called Addison E. Dederick, who was qualified as a real estate expert and gave a value of $2,500 of the property before the construction was started and $1,800 after the work was completed. He swore that the fair rental value of the property was $50 a year or about $4 a month. Mr. Lane was not there, but it was understood that the testimony that he would give would be the same as Mr. Dederick's. Charles Wood, the foreman of the viaduct construction was called and said that the Hutton property was first used for a roadway by the contractors on October 1, 1913, and that the construction work was begun on April 21, 1913.

This testimony was given to prove the length of time that the property had been used, for which Mr. Hutton is making a claim. This testimony closed the case and the Lane case was taken up.

The Lane claim was settled some time ago when former Corporation Council Metzger and Mr. Lane agreed on a damage of $3,100. This amount was ratified later by the common council. When the case was brought up before the commission, both Mr. Brinlner and the attorneys for the two railroads objected to this settlement as it was very excessive.

This morning it was agreed between the parties that Mr. Lane was to cancel the old agreement, and should receive $2,750, thus reducing the amount $350. Mr. Lane was called and proved his title which closed the case. An adjournment was taken until September 2.

Too Many Green Appls.

Morris Weiner, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Pinkos Weiner, of Meadow street, is in a serious condition at the Kingston City Hospital, after undergoing an operation on Tuesday evening. The young lad had eaten a number of green apples during the morning and towards evening he complained of severe pains. His mother did all that she could to relieve the pain which steadily grew worse and Dr. Chandler was summoned and took the boy to the hospital in his automobile.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 29.—The news that came this morning to arbitrage brokers of a practical cessation of dealings in the London stock exchange, coupled with the closing of the Bourses at Amsterdam and St. Petersburg, intensified the feverishness that has prevailed in the stock market here since the beginning of the week. There was a reluctance of take the buying side except at substantial concessions and as a result severe losses were sustained all through the list in the first few minutes. The declines in the leading issues at that time ranged from one to over four points, but afterwards a better tone developed and before the end of the first half hour a number of issues were in good demand and made rallies of from one to two points. The trading was attended with much excitement and wide-openings were recorded in many stocks. The first series of Readings were reported at five thousand shares from 15 1/2 to 15 1/4, the stock selling at more than two points apart in different sections of the crowd at the same time. At the low level at the opening Reading showed a loss of 3 1/2 points with a quick recovery. Great Northern Pfd. dropped five points, followed by a rally to 11 1/2. Amalgamated Copper yielded 3 1/2 to 5 1/4, and a loss of 3 1/4 was sustained in Anaconda, which opened at 25 1/2. The opening transaction in United States Steel common consisted of 2,000 shares at 54 1/4 and five thousand at 54, against 55 1/4 at the close yesterday, but there was a quick rally in this market leader of a point to 55, making it show only a fractional loss as the first half hour ended. Lehigh Valley yielded 3 points to 12 1/4 with a rally later to 12 3/4. A great deal of interest was displayed in Canadian Pacific, because of the suspension of business generally abroad where that stock is dealt in, but it fell to 160. The curb market was steady.

Noon—A great change in stock market conditions was noted in the late forenoon, many of the leading issues being in vigorous demand. Special notice was taken of Canadian Pacific, which rose five points to 165 1/2. Amalgamated Copper, Southern Pacific and United States Steel were up 2 points; Baltimore & Ohio, China Copper, Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania Reading, Union Pacific, United States Rubber and Utah Copper one point; Erie, Chesapeake & Ohio, 3/4, and Western Union, 1/2. Call money loaning at 4 per cent.

2:30 p. m.—As the afternoon progressed there was a disappearance of the nervous tone which had characterized the market since the beginning of the week and in its place there was a demonstration of the market's ability to handle all the international issues were in brisk demand and net gains were numerous.

The New York market closed strong; governments unchanged; other bonds irregular.

To Decorate the Rossmore.

S. L. Kingsburg & Son have been awarded the contract to decorate the interior and paint the exterior of the Rossmore Hotel, on Canal street, recently purchased by Mr. Portong of Long Island.

CAPE COD CANAL OPENED TODAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New Bedford, Mass., July 29.—The Cape Cod Canal, which cost $12,000,000, took five years to dig, and is expected to draw 25,000,000 tons of traffic a year, was opened today with a water parade and speechmaking.

It unites Buzzard's Bay and Barnstable Bay by a waterway of a minimum depth of 25 feet and minimum width of 100 feet at the bottom.

The canal's width and depth are greater than those of the first Suez Canal and the tonnage through which it will probably be for many years more than twice that of the Panama Canal.

Thousands of persons came to the canal today in motor cars and various water craft. An official fleet, led by a boat load of officers of the Cape Cod Construction Company, with a long following of footmen and crowded small vessels, left here this morning, proceeded through Buzzard's Bay and the canal to the eastern end and then returned to the western approach where there were formal exercises on shore. While speeches were being made here, Cape Cod folk at the other end were holding a pageant.

There were many state and national dignitaries present and congratulations were in order for William Barclay Parsons, engineer of the canal; Frank A. Furst, head of the contracting company and August Belmont, financial backer.

The canal is thirteen miles long between thirty foot depths in the two bays it connects and eight miles from shore to shore. It was commenced June 22, 1909, and unofficially opened July 4, last.

Since the time of Miles Standish, Massachusetts has been hoping for a canal across Cape Cod. In colonial days, engineers examined the grounds and George Washington ordered a report on the coast. There were five attempts to open a canal before this one.

Twenty-five thousand vessels round Cape Cod every year and 2,131 vessels have been wrecked on Pollock's Rip, where there are 1,052 hours of fog annually. Vessels of more than 1,000 tons gross pay 10 cents a ton for the use of the canal, but save a great deal in lessened insurances. It is figured that barges and schooners also will save an average of four days on a round trip through the canal between Boston and the south as compared with the hazardous old route.

Installing Sprinklers.

A new system of automatic sprinklers for fire prevention is being installed in the factory of the Washington Candy Company at Hasbrouck avenue and Mill street. The Herbert Brush Company's factory has also been similarly equipped in the past.

EFFECTS OF WAR ON BUSINESS HERE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 22.—Opinions as to the effect of a general European war on the United States among bankers and brokers connected with the New York stock exchange differed today, the bankers appearing to believe that in the end the war would prove beneficial to our business interests, while the brokers seemed to think that such a war would only result in harm. Henry Clews, the banker, believed that while the early period of the conflict might affect American business interests disastrously the American business man would be sure to profit in the long run.

"The first effect of the war," said Mr. Clews, "would be a shock to financial affairs as the impulse of the timid is to run securities into cash and as American securities are the easiest to get rid of, prices here would naturally decline. However, should a foreign war be likely to last some time the armies would take men from the fields, the shop and the manufactures and the products of the countries effected would be greatly curtailed. This would lead to an increased demand for the products of the United States and would stimulate business here."

"Increased earnings would result for the railroads, the farmers and the mechanics and this in turn would recommend our securities. Those having funds would recognize them as the safest as we are far removed from the zone of war and are friendly to all nations likely to be involved. Those who sold out on the impulse of the moment and those with idle capital would in a short time invest in American securities which would result in a higher range of prices."

"The people of the triple alliance would not buy from those of the triple entente and vice versa during the trouble which would mean that they would all buy from our merchants."

W. C. Antwerp, one of the governors of the New York stock exchange, and recognized as one of its most authoritative spokesmen, differs with Mr. Clews.

"It is my belief," he said, "that the war would result in incalculable harm. The man who thinks otherwise is, in my opinion, wrong. Take the effect on wheat for instance. Where would the citizens of this country be if the price of wheat went up to $2 a bushel. Anyway we have no merchant marine to carry the wheat to Europe and if we had, how would we get it by the blockades that would be established."

"Prices would go up here as well as in Europe and people here would suffer. The cost of living is high enough now."

"American securities would be the only ones that would be worth anything and every one who wanted to raise money would sell them. This would have a bad effect on the market."

"There is no truth in the report that the stock exchange is to close as some in Europe have done. We will not close no matter what happens."

A. Barton Hepburn, formerly secretary of the treasury and chairman of the Chase National Bank, declared that war could not come at a more opportune time for the United States. "It would mean a business boom," he said.

"With the bumper crops of the year and the fact that American bonds would be the only ones from which an income would be assured, the ultimate result of the war would be a great benefit to business all over the U. S."

"I hope, however, for the sake of the countries involved, there will be no such war."

The Excursion Today.

Between nine hundred and one thousand passengers boarded the steamer Mary Powell this morning before she left her dock at 8:30 o'clock this morning to take the Sunday School of St. James's M. E. Church on its excursion. The destination of the boat was Bear Mountain Park. ### ST. PETER'S PARISH OUTING.

Annual Picnic at Kingston Point a Very Successful Affair.

In spite of the threatening weather of Tuesday the annual picnic and outing of St. Peter's congregation held at Kingston Point was a grand success from every viewpoint. The weather cleared about 2 o'clock and made ideal conditions for the children's games and other forms of amusements with which the members of the congregation were in the habit of spending the day.

The real part of the picnic actually began about 1 o'clock when about three hundred school children, riding four trolley cars, made a tour of the city waving American flags and singing patriotic airs throughout the journey. The kiddies were as happy as larks and made every one who saw them enter into the spirit of the occasion. The Rev. George Wermuth was in charge of the boys and Miss Emma Rice looked after the welfare of the girls.

Beginning at 2:30 o'clock and continuing until 6 there were field sports for the young folks. The skies had cleared by this time and furnished ideal weather for the pastimes. Many ludicrous "stunts" were pulled off and gave great entertainment for the young people as well as the adults. Another feature of the outing was an auction sale conducted by the ladies who had prepared many articles which were done up in parcels and sold to the highest bidder. A good sum was realized in this manner in addition to that derived from the sale of lunches. Everything in sight was consumed before 10 o'clock at night but many remained until 11 o'clock to enjoy the dancing, music being furnished by Prof. Muller's orchestra. Among those present were the Rev. Fathers Briody and Brown of St. Joseph's parish.

In the athletic events prizes consisting of baseball bats, gloves and balls for the boys, and boxes of candy, handkerchiefs, parasols, boxes of paper and boxes of pencils were awarded. These were the gifts of Mrs. Jacob Rice. The awards were as follows:

Barrel race, won by Joseph Koenig and Maurice Pan race, won by E. Kidney. Three legged race, won by S. Wolf and George Connolly. High jump, won by Carl Mehm. Hop race, won by Peter Bruck. Pretzel race, won by C. Bruck and Kenneth Roos, who consumed their pretzels in the shortest time.

In the contests for girls, the broad grin, the girl wearing the broadest grin, the prize went to Rose Brown. Handkerchief race, won by Emma Rasmussen. Candle race, won by Helen Rasmussen. String race, won by Leo Brethaupt. This consisted in seeing who could stuff a piece of string into the mouth in the shortest time. Balloon race, won by Agnes Leuffen. Crowning contest, won by E. Saxe. In this the girls tried to give their best imitations of the crowing of a rooster. Target toys, won by Flora Thurn.

The committees in charge of the event were as follows: Decor committee, John Winter, W. J. Gehrmann, Michael Kelsch; cashiers, C. Heitzmann, Charles J. Weiss, William Schatzel; doll contest, Casner Ketterer. The ladies of the parish served refreshments during the afternoon and evening and did everything possible to make the outing one grand success. It is estimated that between 1,400 and 1,500 attended the affair during the afternoon and evening.

EUROPEAN WAR POWERS REVIE WING THEIR TROOPS.

Indications are that unless drastic measures for peace are taken by the other powers Russia will involve the whole of Europe in war by aiding Serbia in her present conflict with Austria. Although the Kaiser has declared for peace he admits that Germany will be forced to step in on Austria's behalf if Russia lends aid to Serbia. Russia is at present mobilizing her troops on the Austrian and German borders.

Are You Eating Squabs Regularly?

You ought to. They are delicious. Squabs are young pigeons only four weeks old. Perhaps you have bought in the markets old pigeons, often offered as squabs. They are comparatively tough and stringy. The genuine squabs, such as we sell, are right out of the nest, fat, plump, juicy, weighing from fourteen ounces to a pound apiece. They are fully feathered. Same as old birds. Squabs are highly esteemed as an article of food because the juice of the squab (which is pure liquid protoplasm) is the most nourishing and vitalizing fluid known. In fact there is no bird or flesh food that can equal the squab for condensed nourishment. We can supply squabs at any time on receipt of your order. Prices 75 cents per pair, by parcel post 15 cents extra.

EFFECTS OF WAR ON BUSINESS HERE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 22.—Opinions as to the effect of a general European war on the United States among bankers and brokers connected with the New York stock exchange differed today, the bankers appearing to believe that in the end the war would prove beneficial to our business interests, while the brokers seemed to think that such a war would only result in harm. Henry Clews, the banker, believed that while the early period of the conflict might effect American business interests disastrously the American business man would be sure to profit in the long run.

"The first effect of the war," said Mr. Clews, "would be a shock to financial affairs as the impulse of the mind is to run securities into cash and as American securities are the easiest to get rid of, prices here would naturally decline. However, should a foreign war be likely to last some time the armies would take men from the fields, the shop and the manufacturing and the products of the countries effected would be greatly curtailed. This would lead to an increased demand for the products of the United States and would stimulate business here."

"Increased earnings would result for the railroads, the farmers and the mechanics and this in turn would recommend our securities. Those having funds would recognize them as the safest as we are far removed from the zone of war and are friendly to all nations likely to be involved."

"Those who sold out on the impulse of the moment and with these with little capital would in a short time invest in American securities which would result in a higher range of prices."

"The people of the triple alliance would not buy from those of the triple entente and vice versa during the trouble which would mean that they would all buy from our merchants."

W. C. Antwerp, one of the governors of the New York stock exchange, and recognized as one of its most authoritative spokesmen, differs with Mr. Clews.

"It is my belief," he said, "that the war would result in incalculable harm. The man who thinks otherwise is, in my opinion, wrong. Take the effect on wheat for instance. Where would the citizens of this country be if the price of wheat went up to $2 a bushel. Anyway we have no merchant marine to carry the wheat to Europe and if we had, how would we get it by the blockades that would be established."

"Prices would go up here as well as in Europe and people here would suffer. The cost of living is high enough now."

"American securities would be the only ones that would be worth anything and every one who wanted to raise money would sell them. This would have a bad effect on the market."

"There is no truth in the report that the stock exchange is to close as some in Europe have done. We will not close no matter what happens."

A. Barton Hepburn, formerly secretary of the treasury and chairman of the Chase National Bank, declared that war could not come at a more opportune time for the United States.

"It would mean a business boom," he said. "With the bumper crops of the year and the fact that American bonds would be the only ones from which an income would be assured, the ultimate result of the war would be a great benefit to business all over the U. S."

"I hope, however, for the sake of the countries involved, there will be no such war."

EUROPEAN WAR POWERS REVIE WING THEIR TROOPS.

Indications are that unless drastic measures for peace are taken by the other powers Russia will involve the whole of Europe in war by aiding Serbia in her present conflict with Austria. Although the Kaiser has declared for peace he admits that Germany will be forced to step in on Austria's behalf if Russia lends aid to Serbia. Russia is at present mobilizing her troops on the Austrian and German borders.

novelty for this season of the year.

Mrs. Frank Kellerhouse and sons, Kenneth and Paul are spending a few weeks with friends in Kingston and Rifton.

Mrs. Ruth Herrick, who has been spending some time in Newburgh returned home Saturday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Klotz.

Mrs. C. V. Enlist was in Kingston on Tuesday.

Miss Alice Gibbons, who has been in New York city for the past two months has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stall and daughter, Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hoyt, Ezra Dumond and G. A. Hoyt enjoyed a drive to Brown's Station on Sunday afternoon.

Ground has been broken for two new houses to be erected on John street by John H. and Ira Saxe.

Sergeant F. P. Trede will occupy the house vacated by Eugene Ostrander.

The Rev. E. Byles was entertained at Wesley Mother's Saturday night and Sunday.

Norman Cole has moved in his new home.

Mrs. J. H. Saxe entertained friends from Ashokan on Tuesday.

N. H. Rowe took a load from this place to attend services in the Reformed Church at Zena on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Katherine McAuliffe, who is employed in New York city is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. C. McAuliffe.

THE VLY.

The Vly, July 22.—The Vly correspondent wishes to correct a mistake made in last week's issue in regard to the Sunday school picnic which will be held August 4 instead of August 5 on account of not ### being able to furnish music for that day. All are invited to attend this picnic and have a good time. Come boys and bring the girls along.

Mrs. G. G. Ackert is ill. We all hope to see her around soon.

Mrs. Maggie Schoonmaker is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Van Demark.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Trowbridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Trowbridge Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Burger spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. P. Hendricks.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Osterhoudt visited Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Burger Sunday.

Miss Metta Bush called on Adeline Terwilliger Sunday.

All reported a fine time at the lawn party on Olson's lawn Saturday evening.

MT. MARION.

Mt. Marion, July 22.—Mrs. Sara Vrooman, Miss Hazel Vrooman, Mrs. H. M. Whittaker, Mrs. J. A. Dederick and Ralph Snyder spent Friday with Mrs. A. S. Vrooman and daughters at High Falls.

The twin daughters of Henry Finger spent the day in Catskill Thursday visiting their great-grandmother. They were accompanied by Miss Ella and Miss Sara Finger.

The Misses Mabel and Jessie Bogart entertained the Thimble Club Saturday. Miss Anna Mae Davis caught the fish for dinner. After dinner some of the girls enjoyed swimming, while the others enjoyed looking on. As some of them were receiving their first lesson in swimming, no wonder they laughed.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, July 22.—The by

Sunday school will hold their annual picnic and excursion on Thursday, July 30, at Coddington. They will go on the Elihu Bunker, which will leave South Rondout at 10:30 a. m. and Rondout at 11 a. m. Tickets, 15 cents. The Sleighsburgh Sunday school will accompany us. If stormy, the next fair day.

George Forsyth spent Sunday with his family.

John Durkin of Hoboken spent Sunday with his mother, Julia Main.

Miss Jennie Blodgett spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Harry Rich, at East Kingston.

Ethel Hamilton of New York is spending some time with her grandmother, Mrs. E. Cole.

Mrs. Crittenden's niece of Kingston is spending a few days with her.

Stoddard Estate $25,000.
The will of the late Walton E. Stoddard of Poughkeepsie was offered for probate in the surrogate's office Tuesday. The estate amounts to about $25,000. As Mrs. Stoddard died shortly after her husband, the provisions relating to her are cancelled, and the entire property reverts to the three children. Charles Stoddard, Mrs. Lulu Murphy of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. Ida May Linson of Kingston, who share equally in the estate.

Dr. Rummell Here Sunday.

The Rev. George Wermuth has received word from the Very Rev. Dr. Joseph P. Rummell that he will have charge of services in St. Peter's Church on Sunday. Dr. Rummell, who is rector of the church, has been spending several weeks in Rome and the Holy Land and is expected home by Saturday at the latest.

FAILURES CAUSED BY THE WAR SCARE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 29.—Four failures due to the slump caused by the war scare were announced on the stock exchange today. Though the exchange opened as usual, practically no business was done and prices were only nominal.

In a market ruled by depression, American stocks were flat. Canadian Pacific fell 13½ points and Union Pacific dropped 3½; other recessions were of a point or more.

The firms which failed were J. G. Elser & Company, Leaver, Mayor & Company, G. H. Travers and C. F. Hankey. Elser & Company is a large brokerage concern, while the other three were small firms.

In the stock market British consols sold at one time today at 69½, the lowest price ever recorded since the earliest years of the last century.

When the price reached that figure a government broker began buying all consols available and the price went up to 70½.

American shares ruled higher than the New York parity. Canadian Pacific selling at 166, a gain of 2½, Southern Railway at 17, a gain of ¼, Steel Common at 54, a gain of ¾.

Banks have requested the board of the stock market not to permit formal dealings.

Two more failures were announced shortly before noon.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR ISSUES MANIFESTO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Vienna, July 29.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary issued a long manifesto to his people in which he assumed full responsibility for the war with Serbia.

It concluded with an invocation for Divine Support for the Austrian arms in the conflict.

The manifesto was written by the aged emperor at Ischl and brought here by a court attaché. The document is a stirring appeal to the patriotism of the emperor's subjects but at the same time is pathetic in that it shows the grief caused by the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

Declaring that "malevolent opponents" prevent his ending his closing years in peace, the emperor refers at length to the "ingratitude, hatred, intrigues and murderous attacks" of Serbia.

Detailing the rejection of the Austrian ultimatum by Serbia, the emperor concludes:

"I am fully conscious of the whole significance of my resolve and my responsibility before the Almighty. With serene conscience I set out on the path my duty points. I trust in the Almighty who give victory to my arms."

MRS. GOULD STILL WORRIED OVER DOWER RIGHTS.

(Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould.)

New York, July 29.—In spite of the answers of the attorneys for her husband Howard Gould and his brother, George J. Gould, to the effect that the dower rights, which she charges the two men conspired to deprive her of, are perfectly safe, Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould is not at all convinced of their good faith. She accuses her husband, from whom she was divorced in 1909 and who pays her $3,000 each month as alimony, and his brother of having tried to cheat her out of her dower rights in the $8,000,000 property at Fifth avenue and Seventy-third street.

To Cure a Cold. Coughs and Colds.—An ordinary cold can often be checked in the first stages by inducing a good perspiration. A glass of very hot milk drunk after you are in bed, or the juice of a lemon added to a tumbler of boiling water, will often accomplish this. A hot bath to which a little ammonia has been added is another method.

Why Contractor Wears Derby Hat. A New York contractor always wears a derby in tunnel work, because it acts as a bumper and protects his head in crowded quarters. A soft hat is little protection when one's head strikes against the timbering of a tunnel.—Engineering Record.

DEFEATS CAUSE WAGNER TO WONDER.

(Honus Wagner.)

Just why the Pirates are wallowing in the second division within striking distance of the cellar is a mystery to Honus Wagner. Early in the season the Smokeville team had visions of figuring in the world's series; but now—listen to Wagner—"We just can't win! The breaks have all been against us this season. I never knew how it felt to be down in the race before this year. It's a queer experience. But maybe we'll begin to have better luck soon."

Lawn Social Today.

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will hold a lawn social this afternoon and evening on the lawn of Mrs. A. Peterson, 68 West O'Reilly street. Extensive decorations have been made and the lawn which is large and spacious has been made into a regular dreamland. Mothers and their children are especially invited to attend as games and swings are provided for the little ones and a day nurse in charge for the smaller ones. An orchestra has been secured to play both the afternoon and evening.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Clambake.

A. J. Anderson Council, No. 20, of Kerhonkson will have a public clambake on August 5 on the Reformed Church grounds. Supper will begin at 4 p. m. and will consist of clams, chicken, sweet corn, sweet potatoes, etc. and will be served in abundance. The Kerhonkson Cornet Band will furnish plenty of good music throughout the afternoon and evening.

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco —Why Not Smoke The Best?

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one.

But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke—in the BEST smoke, in fact.

Tuxedo is the best smoke because no better tobacco leaf grows, and no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original "Tuxedo Process."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

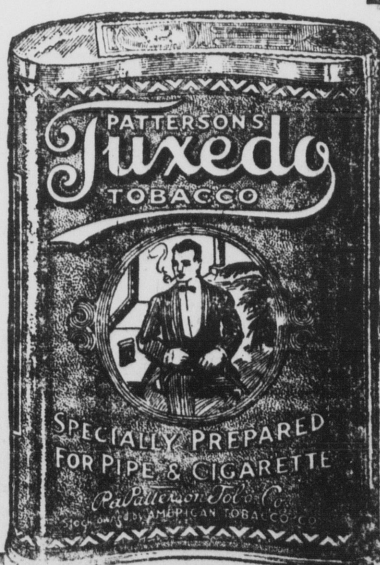

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo Process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality.

Mayor of Covington, Kentucky
"A good pipe, and Tuxedo to fill it, and I'm satisfied. The tobacco in the little green tin has no rival as far as I am concerned."

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco —Why Not Smoke The Best?

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco" than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one.

But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke—in the BEST smoke, in fact.

Tuxedo is the best smoke because no better tobacco leaf grows, and no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original "Tuxedo Process."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo Process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 29, 1914.

One of the most attractive candidates for a place upon the Republican State ticket this year is Dr. Eugene H. Porter, who is in the field for the office of Secretary of State. During his term as State Commissioner of Health he reorganized and extended that department so that it became one of the most important branches of the government. He has proved his extraordinary executive ability not only in the public service, but in several successful private enterprises. He would make a strong candidate, since his qualifications are known throughout all the counties of the State.

Advocates and opponents of the commission form of government are equally interested in the despatches from Denver stating that the commission in that city is spending $100,000 a year more than was paid out under the old system. Not being conversant with the situation, and finding the despatches lacking in perspicuity, we are unable to determine whether or no the commission system has scored a failure. High taxes are not necessarily a bad thing, except in so far as they deter people from settling in the town. A well organized municipal government sometimes takes upon itself tasks previously left to private benevolence. We have a number of institutions in Kingston which are constantly begging for subscriptions. If the city took them over and raised the money they need by taxation, the community would be cut nothing, although the burden would be differently distributed. We are very far from recommending that our own city adopt such a policy, but it is well to bear such possibilities in mind when considering reports like that which comes from Denver. People seldom become indignant over their tax bills unless they have reason to believe that the public money is being wasted or stolen.

At this distance, the proceedings during the Caillaux trial are calculated to create the impression that Paris is populated entirely by lunatics, but that opinion is hardly warranted. We have never had a murder trial of that sort in this country, and nobody knows just what would happen if we did. If the wife of some member of our Cabinet—say Mrs. Bryan—should shoot some editor—say Hearst—for some particularly exasperating manifestation of yellowness, it is not impossible that unprecedented excitement and perhaps riots would ensue. This would be still more probable if a few cranks and demagogues like Roosevelt, Sulzer, Upton Sinclair, "Big Bill" Haywood and "Becky" Edelson, were permitted under our judicial system to come into court at the head of their followers and make inflammatory speeches. Rioting and hysterics are confined to no one country or race. Moreover, it should not be forgotten that Paris is the headquarters for absinth drinking. It may occur to enlightened Frenchmen that such disgraceful proceedings may be minimized in the future by revising their rules of evidence and enacting a little sumptuary legislation.

Formerly The Freeman maintained a rule against printing anonymous communications, holding to the theory that persons who lacked the courage to back up their ideas with their names were deserving of no consideration. During recent years we have modified this policy, and while we still demand the writers' names for our own protection, we have come to see that there are sometimes good reasons why a correspondent may be unwilling to disclose his identity to the public. The principle involved is the same which led the State to adopt the secret ballot, although in a community of free men every voter ought theoretically to vote openly the same as in old-fashioned town meetings. In practice it was found that men who did so were liable to lose business, or perhaps their jobs, and it was recognized that men who were thus dependent were the ones who most needed the ballot for their protection. So we give hearings to men who for any reason cannot come out openly, providing they are governed by reasonable standards of brevity, truthfulness and decency of language. Nevertheless, we urge correspondents to let their names appear. Nobody cares very much what "Pro Bono Publico" or "Old Subscriber" thinks, but a great deal of attention is paid to plain John Smith or Bill Jones. Even if he has no particular standing, or prominence, he is regarded as in a sense the representative of many others like himself, so that his bigger fellow citizens are bound to give his opinions respectful consideration.

LONGFELLOW'S HOME.

(By Our Woman Editor.)

Five thousand dollars—Not a great sum to be sure, but unless it is forthcoming within a short while, the birthplace of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow will be torn down to the ground, and in its place will come the rearing walls and the smoke and roar of a modern factory. Undoubtedly this long-cherished landmark of Portland, Me., will remain a landmark still, for the International Longfellow Society, which already has some money available for the purpose, probably will secure the lacking thousands to keep the vandals away from the home of the most-read and best-loved poet of America.

In itself, without any of the memories and associations that have made it dear to the residents of Portland and the hundreds of thousands of visitors who have been lured to the spot, it is a fine old Colonial mansion that ought to be permitted to stand as long as it would, just as a type of the homes in the yesteryears.

But it ought to be preserved for something more. In our whole big country, very young, for all its greatness and bigness, we have not so many houses whose quaint walls sheltered men and women of the Longfellow type that we can afford to let any of them slip out of our sight and touch and into the hard manufacturing grasp.

We need homes that still breathe the air of inspiration and we need the very rooms where lived a man who has sung in a beautiful way of these days of magnificent buildings, furnishings and all, we need to look back to the sweet simplicity and abiding charm that clung like the vine to the wall of that Longfellow home.

It is sentiment, nothing more, that makes us hope that the fine old place will be preserved, but it is sentiment that we are the richer for cherishing, and perhaps few visitors who have known and cared at all for the Longfellow verse have passed through room after room of the home that he loved without drawing closer to the singer himself and without loving his songs all the more.

In passing, to those who like to have something tangible to connect them with other days and other memories, it is good to feel that Mount Vernon has become a national shrine. But—let us speak of it very softly, so that not a foreigner may hear—it is said that it came perilously near to passing into the hands of a man whose mighty ambition was to convert it into "a fashionable beer garden." Think of it, folk who care! That would have been a sadder blow to sentiment, much sadder and harder than to let the Longfellow home pass away for want of interested buyers.

The beautiful, simple home of our first President with the charming grounds that surround it was offered and offered again, but no one was ready to purchase it. Congress would have none of it, and it might have gone nobody-knows-where but for the patriotic women of the country who valiantly came to the rescue and who now stand guard over the home and over the tomb where Washington is buried.

It is strange how impressions and thoughts and emotions and influences vary in the varying folk who visit shrines of that sort.

Some, the chronic tourists, hurry through with just a few minutes to spare, and it is the visible something that pleases them the most. They like the assurance of having passed through rooms that have historic significance and of seeing the furnishings that were used, the very beds and all.

Others like to go and dream personal, intimate dreams of the folk who peopled the rooms, and as they pass through the front door, up the staircase and into the rooms, one and all, they feel that they are treading on sacred ground. And generally they slip out with the feeling that somehow they better understand the personality that made the place famous. Mount Vernon is just a fine old home, with a big place in history, until they have been there and been impressed by its influence. And then the atmosphere of simple dignity, the calmness, the absolute lack of ostentation impress them, and it is Washington himself who stands forth, not Mount Vernon, the show place.

We have our sweet singers today, have our public-spirited men who would prove equal to a mighty demand if the demand were made, but there's an impression abroad that we are traveling away from the wholesome sturdiness of earlier days and if, now and then, there's a home of a maker of songs or of a man who stood close to the nation in a day of sore need, that is in danger of passing into unappreciative hands, we do well to make an effort to save it from the despoiler. Because it is true that many folk find not only interest but inspiration in visiting a place that once was the home of someone whose life and accomplishments they mightily revere, whether it was the home of the poet who softly whispered, "Be still, sad heart, and cease repining," or the historic home of "the father of his country."

"Let's wait a minute and see the game," said the near-sighted man, who was travelling in Holland. "There's no game." "What's that just ahead of us?" "A windmill." "My mistake! I thought it was a pitcher going through the motions preliminary to sending a hot one over the plate."—Washington Star.

Talk That Counts.

Ephum Johnson was up before Judge Shimmerpate on a cruelty to animals charge.

"Deed Ah wasn't abusin dat mule, judge," the old man demurred.

"Did you strike it repeatedly with a club?"

"Yassah."

"And do you not know that you can accomplish more with animals by speaking to them?"

"Yassah; but dis critter am diff'nt. He am so deaf he can't hear me when Ah speaks to him in de usual way, so Ah has to communicate with him in de sign language."—Youngstown Telegram.

Where He Was.

"Fred, do you remember where you were in 1910?" asked the bride of a few months.

"Why, no dear; I don't remember exactly," replied the young husband.

"Why do you ask?"

"Why, I was reading to-day in the paper that it is said that in 1910 one person in every 800 in the United States was in prison."

Elected by Mail.

A new member from Michigan is Representative Francis O. Lindquist. The story of his life reads like a romance. His parents were Swedish immigrants to a little lumbering town in Wisconsin, and he left school when in the third grade. His youth was spent in working around lumber yards, docks and hotels, and at last he wound up in Greenville, Mich.

Ten years ago he was pushing barrows of feed around a store in that town for a dollar and a half a day, and after a few months at that he saved the sum of $40. With this sum he set up in business in a small store for himself, and did so well that at the end of two years he began to put into practice an immense plan, which succeeded so well that he is now the president of a large men's clothing concern.

His force, when he "set up" eight years ago, consisted of himself and a second-hand machine in the back of his store. Today there are ten girls simply to sort the mail received, which every day amounts to thousands of letters.

When the contest was on, more than a year ago, in Michigan, Lindquist determined to come to Congress. He wanted this country to have a pure fabric law as regards goods and leather, similar to that passed for pure food. To make himself known he sent out by mail hundreds of thousands of personal letters, and the result placed him in Congress.

Wishing to enlist the aid of the president, Lindquist went to the White House last fall with a box of samples of adulterated goods. But the secret service officer stopped him at the door, and it was only by displaying his wares that he secured an entrance.

"The next time I go," he explained, "I will take my goods in an open-work hamper."—Washington Star.

The Toilet.

Caroline Lockhart, the novelist, said on a recent visit to New York:

"What amazing toilets the rich woman makes to-day! Her bath and massage require an hour; the coiffeur, demands an hour more; then here's the manicure; then there's the application, before a Louis Quinze dressing table, of a dozen unguents and cosmetics from bottles mounted in old silver. And her actual dressing, the actual putting on of her clothes, hasn't mark you, yet begun!"

"It makes me think of a shack I once put up at overnight in the prairie. I rose at daybreak, and washed by face and hands in a creek behind the house. A piece of burlap bag hung on a branch, and I used this for a towel. Then I took a comb from my pocket."

"A boy of 12 had been watching me with a cynical smile. When he saw my comb appear he could restrain himself no longer. He gave a laugh of scorn and yelled: 'Hey, lady, ain't you a good deal of trouble to yourself?'—New York World.

BRANCH.

Branch, July 28.—Orpha Krom of Allaben and Kathryn Latterlee of this place had a thrilling experience on Sunday which they will long remember. They had planned climbing Slide two weeks previous and on Sunday at 9 o'clock they started from Winnisnook, and took their time climbing Slide, arriving there at 11:30 a. m., a little tired. After doing ample justice to their lunch, they started to find some good spring of water, as all the soft drink stands seemed to be holding the Sabbath. They had only gone a short distance when they heard some noise in the forests that surrounds the Slide. Perhaps it was a wildcat or panther, as these animals are very numerous thereabouts, but however the young ladies didn't stop to investigate but thought of another way they might take and proceed home. They followed the Wittenberg trail for some distance, then struck in the forest to the right, climbing and falling down ledges from 50 to 100 feet high, until they came to the head waters of the East Branch of the Neversink. This they followed, where several deer and raccoon tracks were visible. Along the stream in several places the stones were cut in squares (perhaps by nature) and placed along close by the stream forming a good sidewalk. Some of the stones were slippery and the young ladies were several times treated to a cold water bath, which they didn't mind, it being a very warm day. It was 4:30 p. m. when they reached the East Branch road, leading to Winnisnook and by this time the party was very hungry and tired and still had five miles to walk to their destination, they having covered fifteen miles during the day, ten miles being through the thick forest. On Monday they were none the worse for their trip, and contemplate taking another tramp in the mountains in the near future, but perhaps will take a guide or body guard along next time, as wild animals are very plentiful in these parts of the Catskills and perhaps are very hungry some times.

Carroll Joslin and Gilbert Van called at Uriah Satterlee's and M. Van Demark's on Sunday evening. Gertrude Brooks, housekeeper at Winnisnook, visited friends at Frost Valley on Sunday.

Several new guests have arrived at Winnisnook during the past week. John D. Schoonmaker expects to build some more fish ponds on the farm he purchased of the Lorent Brothers.

Wild red raspberries are ripe and are very plentiful.

Frances Whipple is visiting friends at Shandaken.

Parents of the children in this place have been notified to have the children vaccinated before sending them to school again.

Susie Thompson, who has been visiting friends in this place, has returned to her home in Shandaken.

Four auto parties from Grahamsville passed through this place on Sunday.

Grant Joslin has gone to New Kingston, where he has employment for a few weeks.

Gilbert Van has a horse to hire by the day or hour.

Lincoln Joslin is working in haying on the Biscuit Brook farm.

Carroll Joslin made business trip to Big Indian one day last week.

Peter Pinney, who has been spending a few days at the Roxmor at Woodland, has returned to Winnisnook.

Dame, standing in aisle, to occupant of pew—"Are you Mrs. Pilkington-Haycock?" "No." "Well, I am, and this is her pew."—Punch.

Talk That Counts.

Ephum Johnson was up before Judge Shlimmerpate on a cruelty to animals charge.

"Deed Ah wasn't abusin' dat mule, judge," the old man demurred.

"Did you strike it repeatedly with a club?"

"Yassah."

"And do you not know that you can accomplish more with animals by speaking to them?"

"Yassah; but dis critter am diff'n't. He am so deaf he can't hear me when Ah speaks to him in de usual way, so Ah has to communicate wid him in de sign language."—Youngstown Telegram.

Where He Was.

"Fred, do you remember where you were in 1910?" asked the bride of a few months.

"Why, no dear; I don't remember exactly," replied the young husband.

"Why do you ask?"

"Why, I was reading to-day in the paper that it is said that in 1910 one person in every 800 in the United States was in prison."

Elected by Mail.

A new member from Michigan is Representative Francis O. Lindquist. The story of his life reads like a romance. His parents were Swedish immigrants to a little lumbering town in Wisconsin, and he left school when in the third grade. His youth was spent in working around lumber yards, docks and hotels, and at last he wound up in Greenville, Mich.

Ten years ago he was pushing barrows of feed around a store in that town for a dollar and a half a day, and after a few months at that he saved the sum of $40. With this sum he set up in business in a small store for himself, and did so well that at the end of two years he began to put into practice an immense plan which succeeded so well that he is now the president of a large men's clothing concern.

His force, when he "set up" eight years ago, consisted of himself and a second-hand machine in the back of his store. Today there are ten girls simply to sort the mail received, which every day amounts to thousands of letters.

When the contest was on, more than a year ago, in Michigan, Lindquist determined to come to Congress. He wanted this country to have a pure fabric law as regards goods and leather, similar to that passed for pure food. To make himself known he sent out by mail hundreds of thousands of personal letters, and the result placed him in Congress.

Wishing to enlist the aid of the president, Lindquist went to the White House last fall with a box of samples of adulterated goods. But the secret service officer stopped him at the door, and it was only by displaying his wares that he secured an entrance.

"The next time I go," he explained, "I will take my goods in an open-work hamper."—Washington Star.

The Toilet.

Caroline Lockhart, the novelist, said on a recent visit to New York:

"What amazing toilets the rich woman makes to-day! Her bath and massage require an hour; the coiffeur, demands an hour more; then here's the manicure; then there's the application, before a Louis Quinze dressing table, of a dozen unguents and cosmetics from bottles mounted in old silver. And her actual dressing, the actual putting on of her clothes, hasn't mark you, yet begun! "It makes me think of a snack I once put up at overnight in the prairie. I rose at daybreak, and washed by face and hands in a creek behind the house. A piece of burlap bag hung on a branch, and I used this for a towel. Then I took a comb from my pocket."

"A boy of 12 had been watching me with a cynical smile. When he saw my comb appear he could restrain himself no longer. He gave a laugh of scorn and yelled:

"Hey, lady, ain't you a good deal of trouble to yourself?"—New York World.

John D. Osterhout died at his home in Samsonville.

BRANCH.

Branch, July 28.—Orpha Krom of Allaben and Kathryn Latterlee of this place had a thrilling experience on Sunday which they will long remember. They had planned climbing Slide two weeks previous and on Sunday at 9 o'clock they started from Winnisnook, and took their time climbing Slide, arriving there at 11:30 a. m., a little tired. After doing ample justice to their lunch, they started to find some good spring of water, as all the soft drink stands seemed to be holding the Sabbath. They had only gone a short distance

when they heard some noise in the forests that surrounds the Slide. Perhaps it was a wildcat or panther, as these animals are very numerous thereabouts, but however the young ladies didn't stop to investigate but thought of another way they might take and proceed home. They followed the Wittenberg trail for some distance, then struck in the forest to the right, climbing and falling down ledges from 50 to 100 feet high, until they came to the head waters of the East Branch of the Neversink. This they followed, where several deer and raccoon tracks were visible. Along the stream in several places the stones were cut in squares (perhaps by nature) and placed along close by the stream forming a good sidewalk. Some of the stones were slippery and the young ladies were several times treated to a cold water bath, which they didn't mind, it being a very warm day. It was 4:30 p. m. when they reached the East Branch road,

REV. MR. LONG SHOT BY HIGHWAYMEN

The Rev. L. R. Long, school superintendent at Margaretville, was held up near Kelly Corners and five shots fired at him by two Italians about nine o'clock Tuesday evening. One of the bullets lodged in his shoulder and another in the foot. As near as could be learned Mr. Long was walking along the road when the two Italians jumped out with leveled guns and ordered him to throw up his hands and then started shooting. The report of the shots was heard but when help came the Italians had disappeared. Mr. Long was given medical attention. As soon as the hold up was reported to the authorities they got busy and sent out a general alarm. The Italians are described as follows: One about 25 years old small and slim built and about 5 foot 9 inches in height. He had a peculiar cigarette yellow complexion and wore a straw hat. The other bandit is described as being a shorter man and it is thought he wore a mustache. Both men were dressed in dark clothes.

FIELD DAY AT COTTEKILL.

Many Features at Event to be Given by the J. O. U. A. M.

On the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, August 5, Cottekill Council, No. 168, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this village will hold a field day and picnic on the vacant lot opposite the Cottekill public school on the road between Cottekill and Binnewater. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be various races and contests, consisting of sack races, three legged races, obstacle race, shoe contest, pie eating contest, etc., cash prizes being awarded the winners. All boys sixteen years of age and under are eligible to enter. A first class supper will be served from 5:30 p. m.; no need of going home to supper; only fifty cents per couple. Refreshments in abundance will be on sale. In the evening at 8 o'clock State Councillor A. W. Lent, of Newburgh, and State Vice Councillor W. J. Smith, of Brooklyn, will deliver addresses on the objects, principles and work of the order. After the addresses the state officers will present to the trustees of the Cottekill public school a handsome new U. S. flag, the same having been given by the local council of Mechanics, who believe in showing to the public that we live up to our principles, in having a flag floating over every school in our land. A cordial invitation is extended to all and especially to all Mechanics, far and near, to come and help us make this a big day. Plenty of seats, good drinking water free. If stormy, the field day will be held the next fair afternoon and evening. Cottekill Council of Mechanics, who are holding this field day, is one of the most live, up-to-date councils in the state. In June a class of 21 men were admitted, and on August first another class of 12 will be taken in, bringing the membership up to the hundred and a quarter mark, which, considering the population, is wonderful and we are sorry to state, that we will be unable to take in more until they grow up and become of age, as all who are of age for admittance are now members. We are patiently waiting.

WILD OPENING IN WHEAT PIT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 29.—There was a wild opening in the wheat market today, following yesterday's sensational rise, the great volume of offerings sending wheat from 1½ to 2½c. The market was very erratic but traders believed that grain would gradually decline to yesterday's early price and business would become normal again within a week unless Russia should announce its intentions to actively participate in the present Austrian-Servian imbroglio.

September wheat, which yesterday closed at 92½, dropped to 88 shortly after trading began but prices soon rallied 2½ on scattered buying. Dec. which closed yesterday at 95½ opened at 94 to 93, and July opened at a loss of 4¼ compared to yesterday's price.

Miss Gertrude Foland of Main street, who has been critically ill, is somewhat improved.

The Rev. M. N. Kalemjian, wife and two children of Three Bridges, N. J., are spending a few days with Mrs. P. Sinsapough on Washington avenue.

Mrs. A. R. Burhans of Partition street is visiting relatives in Albany.

Burr Field of Brooklyn is visiting relatives in town.

PRaise FOR OUR BOYS.

Visitor to Kingston Finds Them Well Behaved at Play.

Kingston, July 29.—To the Editor of Kingston Freeman:

As one who has spent twenty-five years in working for and with boys and young men, I write you after a ten day visit to your lovely city of some lessons gained from your boys and young men as found at the Esopus creek swimming pool at the foot of Clinton avenue. I want to say on a whole it is the most wholesome place I have found along the Hudson for the boys to learn to swim. The water is clean and free from sewerage. After a ten days mingling with the crowd that gather there, I want to say I have found less inclination to the use of profanity than any place I have been. You seldom hear God's name used in vain. There you will discover born leaders for every group of boys have their leader. I was particular struck with the leadership of a young boy about fifteen, known among his fellows as Dinger. He seemed clean cut and very considerate. He saw that all the younger boys had fair play and it was no trouble in the least for him to control the boys. There is no rowdiness like you find so often when so many different classes are represented, for the black boy, the white, Jew, Greek you will find among the number. I find I can learn more in one week's study of the lives of young boys and young men at a place like that and what influences are at work among them than a month's study of them in Sunday school, Y. M. C. A. classes, etc. I simply want to congratulate Kingston on the type of boys and young men. I find them courteous in many ways. I would like to see the place kept free from contaminating influence. I told the boys I would write one of the papers. They told me to write The Freeman.

From one interested in everything of interest to the boy.

HURLEY.

Hurley, July 29.—There will be a fair and supper in the church on Tuesday, August 4, afternoon and evening. The preparations made under the supervision of Miss Jane Hasbrouck promise a most successful affair and one well worth visiting. The usual booths will be found, among them a candy booth managed by the young ladies. Many useful and fancy articles have been engaged and made for the fair and thus an opportunity will be given to secure the little things that make life pleasant and easy for all. The supper will be given from 6 to 8 in the evening and will be found to be generous and dainty in every respect. Hurley ladies are well known for their nice recipes and many a toothsome dainty will be had in all its freshness. To the women of the village an opportunity will be here found to get rid of one meal for the inner man while the man himself will have an opportunity to enjoy his neighbor's efforts to please him and give his wife a chance to enjoy the evening. Come early.

Miss Ethel Elmendorf spent the week end at Cornwall.

Arnold Hiller is home after a visit at Atlantic City.

There were many out of town visitors at the entertainment last Friday night.

Rev. Frederick Foertner occupied the pulpit at the village church last Sunday. His text was "The Disobedient Prophet."

FIELD DAY AT COTTEKILL.

Many Features at Event to be Given by the J. O. U. A. M.

On the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, August 5, Cottekill Council, No. 168, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this village will hold a field day and picnic on the vacant lot opposite the Cottekill public school on the road between Cottekill and Binnewater. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be various races and contests, consisting of sack races, three legged races, obstacle race, shoe contest, pie eating contest, etc., cash prizes being awarded the winners. All boys sixteen years of age and under are eligible to enter. A first class supper will be served from 5:30 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. no need of going home to supper; only fifty cents per couple. Refreshments in abundance will be on sale. In the evening at 8 o'clock State Councilor A. W. Lent, of Newburgh, and State Vice Councilor W. J. Smith, of Brooklyn, will deliver addresses on the objects, principles and work of the order. After the addresses the state officers will present to the trustees of the Cottekill public school a handsome new U. S. flag, the same having been given by the local council of Mechanics, who believe in showing to the public that we live up to our principles. In having a flag floating over every school in our land. A cordial invitation is extended to all and especially to all Mechanics, far and near, to come and help us make this a big day. Plenty of seats, good drinking water free. If stormy, the field day will be held the next fair afternoon and evening. Cottekill Council of Mechanics, who are holding this field day, is one of the most live, up-to-date councils in the state. In June a class of 21 men were admitted, and on August first another class of 12 will be taken in, bringing the membership up to the hundred and a quarter mark, which, considering the population, is wonderful and we are sorry to state, that we will be unable to take in more until they grow up and become of age, as all who are of age for admittance are now members. We are patiently waiting.

WILD OPENING IN WHEAT PIT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 29.—There was a wild opening in the wheat market today, following yesterday's sensational rise, the great volume of offerings sending wheat from 1½¢ to 2½¢. The market was very erratic but traders believed that grain would gradually decline to yesterday's early price and business would become normal again within a week unless Russia should announce its intentions to actively participate in the present Austrian-Servian imbroglio.

September wheat, which yesterday closed at 92½¢, dropped to 88¢ shortly after trading began but prices soon rallied 2½¢ on scattered buying. Dec. which closed yesterday at 95¢ opened at 94¢ to 93¢, and July opened at a loss of 4¢ compared to yesterday's price.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, July 29.—Organist H. Metzger of Trinity Episcopal Church has leased part of the house owned by Mrs. Josephine Whittaker on West Bridge street and will occupy it with his family.

Mrs. Henry Roosa and daughter, Lillian, of Partition street, have returned from a trip to New York city.

George Darrow of Philadelphia, Pa., has returned home after a visit with William Comfort on Livingston street.

F. J. Wilber spent the first of the week in Kingston.

Miss Julia Nell of Brooklyn is visiting her aunt, Mrs. George McNally, on Partition street.

Dr. and Mrs. L. Emerick and two children and Mrs. Chandler DuBois left this morning for a vacation to be spent in Maryland, Otsego county.

Miss Gertrude Poland of Main street, who has been critically ill, is somewhat improved.

The Rev. M. N. Kalemjian, wife and two children of Three Bridges, N. J., are spending a few days with Mrs. P. Sinsapough on Washington avenue.

Mrs. A. R. Burhans of Partition street is visiting relatives in Albany.

Burr Field of Brooklyn is visiting relatives in town.

PRAISE FOR OUR BOYS.

Visitor to Kingston Finds Them Well Behaved at Play.

Kingston, July 29. To the Editor of Kingston Freeman: As one who has spent twenty-five years in working for and with boys and young men, I write you after a ten day visit to your lovely city of some lessons gained from your boys and young men as found at the Eoepus creek swimming pool at the foot of Clinton avenue. I want to say on a whole it is the most wholesome place I have found along the Hudson for the boys to learn to swim. The water is clean and free from sewerage. After a ten days mingling with the crowd that gather there, I want to say I have found less inclination to the use of profanity than any place I have been. You seldom hear God's name used in vain. There you will discover born leaders for every group of boys have their leader. I was particularly struck with the leadership of a young boy about fifteen, known among his fellows as Dinger. He seemed clean cut and very considerate. He saw that all the younger boys had fair play and it was no trouble in the least for him to control the boys. There is no rowdiness like you find so often when so many different classes are represented, for the black boy, the white, Jew, Greek you will find among the number. I find I can learn more in one week's study of the lives of young boys and young men at a place like this than what influences are at work among them than a month's study of them in Sunday school, Y. M. C. A. classes, etc. I simply want to congratulate Kingston on the type of boys and young men. I find them courteous in many ways. I would like to see the place kept free from contaminating influence. I told the boys I would write one of the papers. They told me to write The Freeman. From one interested in everything of interest to the boy.

HURLEY.

Hurley, July 29.—There will be a fair and supper in the church on Tuesday, August 4, afternoon and evening. The preparations made under the supervision of Miss Jane Hasbrouck promise a most successful affair and one well worth visiting. The usual booths will be found, among them a candy booth managed by the young ladies. Many useful and fancy articles have been engaged and made for the fair and thus an opportunity will be given to secure the little things that make life pleasant and easy for all. The supper will be given from 6 to 8 in the evening and will be found to be generous and dainty in every respect. Hurley ladies are well known for their nice recipes and many a toothsome dainty will be had in all its freshness. To the women of the village an opportunity will be here found to get rid of one meal for the inner man while the man himself will have an opportunity to enjoy his neighbor's efforts to please him and give his wife a chance to enjoy the evening. Come early. Miss Ethel Elmendorf spent the week end at Cornwall. Arnold Hiller is home after a visit at Atlantic City. There were many out of town visitors at the entertainment last Friday night. Rev. Frederick Foertner occupied the pulpit at the village church last Sunday. His text was "The Disobedient Prophet." Mr. and Mrs. Coons with Miss May and Halsey are visiting with Mrs. James Lockwood. Mr. Taggart of Pittsburgh was in this village on Monday. Miss Mericle is visiting at the Elting camp at Lake Katrine.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

A hearing was had before Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court Tuesday in the contest over the will of Sarah M. Gray of the town of Marbletown and two witnesses were examined. These witnesses were John R. Heilman, who is connected with the Hudson River State Hospital at Poughkeepsie, and Superintendent of the Poor Cornelius L. Van Orden of New Paltz. According to the records, Miss Gray was committed to the New Paltz county house in 1887 and in September, 1887, she was removed to the Hudson River State Hospital, from which she was discharged in 1891. At the time of her commitment the state had no supervision of the insane and each county cared for its own insane. The matter was adjourned to September 15. The contestant claim that Miss Gray was incapable of making a will. The bulk of the estate, under the terms of the will, is given to various missionary boards of the Reformed and Methodist Churches, and to the American Sunday School Union. The contestant believes the property should have been left to him.

Witt Roosa appeared for the Rev. William L. DeGraff, who is named executor in the will; Virgil B. Van Wagoner appeared for the contestant, and William H. Van Steenburgh of New York city appeared for the Mission Boards of the Reformed Dutch Church.

The will of John C. Davis of Saugerties was admitted to probate. The testator gives his estate to his wife, Kate Freleigh Davis, whom he appoints executrix. The will was executed by Benjamin Rowe and Nathan Van Steenburgh, both of Saugerties. The value of the estate is $10,000 real estate and $500 personal property. Frederick Stephan, Jr., appeared for the executrix.

The matter of proving the will of Smith Flowers was adjourned. The matter of the estate of John U. Brookman was adjourned to September 1.

The matter of the estate of Minnie L. Myers was adjourned to September 1.

A hearing was had in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Homer B. Buley as administrator de bonis non of the estate of Mary J. Buley of the town of Shandaken and a decree passing and approving the account was directed to be prepared. John W. Eckert appeared for the administrator.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, July 29.—A concert was given under the auspices of the Woodstock Club in Fireman's Hall last Wednesday evening. Prof. Carlson, Miss Eams and some people from Byrd Cliffe Park contributed to the entertainment with vocal and instrumental music. A large audience was out.

A fair and festival is to be held at Wittenburg in the M. E. Church Hall the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, August 5.

The Kings Daughters of the M. E. Church of Shady are preparing to give a bazar and supper on the grounds of the church Thursday afternoon and evening, August 6.

The society of the Lutheran Church at Woodstock is preparing for a fair on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, August 12, on the grounds of the Lutheran Church.

The Rev. W. H. Seiple of All-gerville, who is the superintendent of the Citizens' League of Ulster county, was at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening and addressed a union meeting in the interest of the league.

Dr. M. B. Downer is running his new Paige-Detroit and is doing his work with greater ease and celerity. He makes his long distance calls in very short time. Not very much time passes after a call comes in before he is in the presence of his patient. His old car was bought by Albert Cashdollar, who is to put it in order for service again.

A free lecture will be given under the auspices of the Woodstock Club by Walter E. Weyl Wednesday evening, August 5. The lecture will be on Mexico.

The Republican caucus for the election district of the town of Woodstock has been called at the M. E. Church Hall Thursday, August 6, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of electing three delegates to the county convention.

SHANDAKEN.

Shandaken, July 29.—In the baseball game between Shandaken town and Bushnellville at the latter place Sunday afternoon, the visitors won by the score of 14 to 7.

Recent arrivals at The Glenbrook include: William A. Phelan, Paterson, N. J.; Miss Laura S. Pratt, Flatbush, R. Mora, New York; Miss Viva Crowley, Brooklyn; Miss Lillian Felty, Bronx, N. Y.; Mrs. R. Dardet and children, Havana, Cuba; Mr. and Mrs. T. Lopez, Havana, Cuba.

The junior baseball team from Shandaken Institute went to Olive-rea on Wednesday last to play a return match with the boys of the Zelenko summer camp, and were this time defeated, the score being 11 to 9.

William C. Barbour, who is connected with the New York Botanical Gardens, and works on local flora, was in town one day last week, and secured several interesting specimens of mosses.

Alphonso Marsans, having motored from New York, is the guest of his brother, R. L. Marsans, director of Shandaken Institute.

In the match played on Saturday at Bushnellville between the local baseball team and Shandaken Institute, victory favor the visitors by 14 to 5.

PULLING TEETH WITHOUT PAIN

This week a lady came into our office and asked to have five teeth pulled. The nurse took her to a chair. She insisted on gas.

The operator told her that there was no pain in extracting teeth with our new "Local Anaesthetic." At first she was insistent on gas, but decided to try one tooth with the "Local."

When the first tooth was pulled she laughed and said: "Go ahead, doctor, and pull the other four."

This new method is far in advance of the dangerous and sickening process of extracting teeth with gas. It is painless and perfectly safe. Open evenings to 9. Sundays 9 to 1.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

A hearing was had before Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court Tuesday in the contest over the will of Sarah M. Gray of the town of Marbletown and two witnesses were examined. These witnesses were John R. Hellman, who is connected with the Hudson River State Hospital at Poughkeepsie, and Superintendent of the Poor Cornelius L. Van Orden of New Paltz. According to the records, Miss Gray was committed to the New Paltz county house in 1887 and in September, 1887, she was removed to the Hudson River State Hospital, from which she was discharged in 1891. At the time of her commitment the state had no supervision of the insane and each county cared for its own insane. The matter was adjourned to September 15. The contestant claim that Miss Gray was incapable of making a will. The bulk of the estate, under the terms of the will, is given to various missionary boards of the Reformed and Methodist Churches, and to the American Sunday School Union. The contestant believes the property should have been left to him. De Witt Roosa appeared for the Rev. William L. DeGraff, who is named executor in the will; Virgil B. Van Wagoner appeared for the contestant, and William H. Van Steenburgh of New York city appeared for the Mission Boards of the Reformed Dutch Church.

The will of John C. Davis of Saugerties was admitted to probate. The testator gave his estate to his wife, Kate Freilich Davis, whom he appoints executrix. The will was executed by Benjamin Rowe and Nathan Van Steenburgh, both of Saugerties. The value of the estate is $10,000 real estate and $1,000 personal property. Benjamin Rowe appeared for the executrix.

The will of William Doughty of this city was admitted to probate. The testator gives his estate to his wife, Maude E. Doughty, and appoints her executrix. The will was executed January 11, 1898, and witnessed by Fred E. Vines and Frederick Stephan, Jr., of this city. The value of the estate is $3,000 real estate and $500 personal property. Frederick Stephan, Jr., appeared for the executrix.

The matter of proving the will of Smith Flowers was adjourned. The matter of the estate of John U. Brookman was adjourned to September 1.

The matter of the estate of Minnie L. Myers was adjourned to September 1.

A hearing was had in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Homer B. Buley as administrator of the estate of Mary J. Buley of the town of Shandaken and a decree passing and approving the account was directed to be prepared. John W. Eckert appeared for the administrator.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, July 29.—A concert was given under the auspices of the Woodstock Club in Fireman's Hall last Wednesday evening. Prof. Carlson, Miss Eams and some people from Byrd Cliffe Park contributed to the entertainment with vocal and instrumental music. A large audience was out.

A fair and festival is to be held at Wittenburg in the M. E. Church Hall the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, August 5.

The Kings Daughters of the M. E. Church of Shady are preparing to give a bazar and supper on the grounds of the church Thursday afternoon and evening, August 6.

The society of the Lutheran Church at Woodstock is preparing for a fair on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, August 12, on the grounds of the Lutheran Church.

The Rev. W. H. Seiple of Allentown, who is the superintendent of the Citizens' League of Ulster county, was at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening and addressed a union meeting in the interest of the league.

Dr. M. B. Downer is running his new Paige-Detroit and is doing his work with greater ease and celerity. He makes his long distance calls in very short time. Not very much time passes after a call comes in before he is in the presence of his patient. His old car was bought by Albert Cashdollar, who is to put it in order for service again.

A free lecture will be given under the auspices of the Woodstock Club by Walter E. Weyl Wednesday evening, August 5. The lecture will be on Mexico.

The Republican caucus for the election district of the town of Woodstock has been called at the M. E. Church Hall Thursday, August 6, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of electing three delegates to the county convention.

SHANDAKEN.

Shandaken, July 29.—In the baseball game between Shandaken town and Bushnellville at the latter place Sunday afternoon, the visitors won by the score of 14 to 7.

Recent arrivals at The Glenbrook include: William A. Phelan, Patterson, N. J.; Miss Laura S. Pratt, Flatbush; R. Mora, New York; Miss Viva Crowley, Brooklyn; Miss Lillian Kelly, Bronx, N. Y.; Mrs. Dardet and children, Havana, Cuba; Mr. and Mrs. T. Lopez, Havana, Cuba.

The junior baseball team from Shandaken Institute went to Olive-rea on Wednesday last to play a return match with the boys of the Zelenko summer camp, and were this time defeated, the score being 11 to 9.

William C. Barbour, who is connected with the New York Botanical Gardens, and works on local flora, was in town one day last week, and secured several interesting specimens of mosses.

Alphonso Marsans, having motored from New York, is the guest of his brother, R. L. Marsans, director of Shandaken Institute.

In the match played on Saturday at Bushnellville between the local baseball team and Shandaken Institute, victory favored the visitors by 14 to 5.

PULLING TEETH WITHOUT PAIN

This week a lady came into our office and asked to have five teeth pulled. The nurse took her to a chair. She insisted on gas.

The operator told her that there was no pain in extracting teeth with our new "Local Anaesthetic." At first she was insistent on gas, but decided to try one tooth with the "Local."

When the first tooth was pulled she laughed and said: "Go ahead, doctor, and pull the other four."

This new method is far in advance of the dangerous and sickening process of extracting teeth with gas. It is painless and perfectly safe.

Open evenings to 9. Sundays 9 to 1.
